OOIEE (pronounced “we” or “oui”) stands for the Office Of Interior Establishing Exterior. It is a transdisciplinary, open practice founded by Matt Olson on 01/01/16 after his first studio, RO/LU, ended. OOIEE work on projects driven by a sprawling set of interests related to art, design, architecture, and landscape. The studio sees all things as connected and is committed to following what it loves forward rather than attempting to decide what it does, believing that “the world makes ‘us’ as much as we make ‘it’ and thus, trusting the work that emerges, whether commissioned or self-initiated, is an act of poetic surrender that gives life to something that is easy to care about.”

Their work is in the permanent collection of the Walker Art Center and many esteemed private collections internationally. Matt Olson was artist-in-residence at the Robert Rauschenberg Foundation and teaches within the School of Architecture at the University of Minnesota. He has been a guest lecturer at SCI-Arc, Cranbrook, SOAT (Taliesin), Nike (Blue Ribbon Studio), SAIC (Chicago), SCAD (Savannah), and many others.

OOIEE is based in Minneapolis, Minnesota.
